What is an attribute?

Within Aero, attributes are used to differentiate versions of a product. This allows you to create variant products

Attributes consist of the following 2 elements:

Attribute groups

All attributes belong to an attribute group. Typical examples of attribute groups include:

- Size - Colour

Attributes

Attributes are the specific options within your attribute groups. Typical examples of attributes include:

- Small - Large - Black - White

Attribute Example

The example below shows attributes being used within a variant product:

☐ This product has a custom slug for its URL

Where do I find my attributes?

Your attributes are located in your Aero admin console.

- Step 1 - Click the Catalog Management button in the left hand menu

☐	NAME	MODEL
☐	 Katana Mini Compact Guitar Amp	katana-mini

How do I create a new attribute?

Individual attributes are tied to their group, in order to create a new attribute you must first decide which group you want to add this new attribute to.

First navigate to the attribute listings page and select the group you want to add new attributes or create a new attribute group and then click the "+ New Attribute" button at the of the Attributes section.

Tags make searching easier for your customers. They allow you to assign broader identifiers to your attributes. For example, you might have the following attributes:

- Navy Blue - Royal Blue

These attributes could both be assigned the tag Blue

What is the attributes list?

Your attributes list shows your current attribute groups. You can view the individual attributes within a group by clicking on the attribute group name, or the arrow icon.

How do I create a new attribute group?

In order to create a new attribute group first navigate to the attributes listings page and click the "+ New Attribute Group" button at the top of the page.

Screenshot_2021-10-14_at_16-08-25_Aero_Commerce_Admin_copy_2.png

From here you will be presented with the form for creating a new attribute group.

The form is grouped into sections with non-required sections collapsed.

Attribute Group Information

First up is the group information;

- Attribute Group Name- The name of your group (e.g size) - Display Type- this determines how your customers will select the different options on your storefront
 - Dropdown- This will provide a dropdown list to choose an option - Colour Swatches- This will display swatches attribute colours - defined by using a HEX colour in the DISPLAY NAME field (e.g. '#ff0000' for red) - Image Swatches- This will display swatches with attribute images - defined by the images uploaded against the attribute value - Swatches- This will display swatches with the product names
