How do I create a new attribute?

Individual attributes are tied to their group, in order to create a new attribute you must first decide which group you want to add this new attribute to.

First navigate to the attribute listings page and select the group you want to add new attributes or create a new attribute group and then click the "+ New Attribute" button at the of the Attributes section.

Tags make searching easier for your customers. They allow you to assign broader identifiers to your attributes. For example, you might have the following attributes:

- Navy Blue - Royal Blue

These attributes could both be assigned the tag Blue
